Considering that the shills are doing everything in their power to discredit and hide legit OP posts, I suggest patriots flip it around with the Streisand effect. INT posters prob know best what to do. If the website is interfering too much with your operations, I'll shut it down.

It is quite likely that Boeing will have to be bailed out. It was already in enormous trouble due to the 737 Max, but now, air travel is cratering and the demand for aircraft is doing the same.

Banks may end up in trouble if they have limited reserves and hold too much low quality debt. I sincerely hope that banks and other finance companies that made large bets on risky debt will be wound up rather than rescued like 2008. Taking too much risk should not be rewarded.
